DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the flattened oval cross-section of the tubes must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 26, 27 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Suchomel et al (5,687,678) in view of Brouwer et al (6,152,086). Suchomel et al discloses a water heater with a coil tubing heat exchanger bundle (54) forming a helical winding and arranged end to end (SEE Figure 1) the casing being of a metallic structure, the major axis of the cross section is perpendicular to that of the helix (SEE Figure 1), while the width of a gap (SEE Figure 8) separating two adjacent turns is smaller than the thickness of the cross-section, the casing is gas-impermeable and the bundle is fixedly mounted inside the case, a device (24) (SEE column 6, lines 13-15) for circulating a fluid (cold water) to be heated, the casing having a sleeve (30) for discharge of the burnt gases, the exchanger is arranged such that the hot gases generated by the burner pass radially (SEE Figure 8) through the bundle through the gaps separating the turns of the bundle, the casing furthermore includes a retaining device (40) for inherently retaining the bundle in the axial direction of the bundle and being capable of absorbing some thrust loads resulting from the internal pressure of the fluid which circulates therein, with regard to claim 2, it is very well known in the art to provide a sensor capable of sending providing a signal to shut down a burner when a pre-set condition is met. Suchomel et al discloses the applicants primary inventive concept but does not particularly disclose that the casing is made of a heat resistant plastic. Brouwer et al teaches a very similar water heater including a helical tube bundle in which the casing of the structure is assembled from two plastic shells (131, 132) fixedly attached together. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which the subject matter pertains to have modified the casing of Suchomel et al to be constructed of the high heat resistant plastic shells as taught by Brouwer et al for the purpose of providing a structure of lower weight without the sacrifice of performance.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 20-25, 28-30 and 32-37 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
